Out

Big, Bigger, Biggest. These were words heard often around Hoover this year. They described our state, our school, and our Senior Class. With Hoover's expansion came problems such as crowded classrooms and hallways. But the growth also brought advantages—more friends, more activities, and opportunities. Since the 1963 DIAS CARDINALES staff feels that the advantages strongly outweigh the weaknesses, we present Our Big Year.

We the Class of 1963 would like to extend our thanks to Coach Raleigh Holt who for the past twenty-one years has given much of his time devotedly building Hoover High into one of the top track powers in the area.

A championship sprinter in the Drake Relays when he graduated from Coe College, Raleigh Holt's abilities also brought honors to the teams he coached. He came to us in 1942 as a football and track coach. In 1943 Hoover was the undefeated champion in football, and in 1943 and 1944 we won the track championships. The 1945 Cross-Country team won the SCIF championship and the 1946 Football team had a 7-1 record. In 1946 Coach Holt relinquished his football duties, and since then he has been the outstanding track coach in the area and has won all but two cross-country championships.

The enthusiasm of the students for the athletic events of the year must be stimulated by well-trained teams. A primary factor in the building of championship basketball teams has been Coach Charles Hampton.

He has served Hoover by giving unselfishly of his time and energy, beyond that which is demanded of other instructors. His attendance at Hoover and San Diego State prepared him well for his fine coaching career. He has been the guiding light—the shaper and mold-er of abilities and team spirit. Dedication is the essence of Coach Charles Hampton. He is never satisfied because satisfaction is stagnation. Charlie Hampton made our team move.

In gratitude for your untiring devotion to Hoover High School, Raleigh Holt and Charlie Hampton, we dedicate our annual to you.

Academic

The administration of Hoover is without doubt one of the finest in the city. One of its biggest jobs this year was the preparation of accreditation data for the Association of Western Colleges and Universities. This evaluation of Hoover was made to provide any college in the country with an accurate picture of our school. The principals carried upon their shoulders the responsibility of almost three thousand students, while the teachers were busy trying to enrich our minds. The secretaries, cafeteria staff, nurse, librarian, and custodians all performed the numerous tasks necessary to keep the school functioning. Each helped to make "the biggest" year the best.

Hoover High School's

This volume of memories, of the past three years is a record of what is best at Herbert Hoover High School. We are proud of you, our class of 1963, and especially of your accomplishments.

It has been said that this is Hoover's "biggest year." The increase in the number of graduating seniors alone, is one of the most evident signs. In addition, the many scholarships and awards made to you or to your classmates have brought glory to the school. We also can point with pride to the victories won by our athletic teams, as well as by our literary and musical groups.

This is truly one of our biggest years. Congratulations to each one of you for a job well done. You deserve the best in the years to come. Our good wishes go with you.

Top Brass...

Mr. Leslie Cassie has served Hoover well; not only as the Boy's Vice-Principal, but also as varsity baseball coach 1946 through 1948. Mr. Cassie graduated from Hoover, and it was here that he met his lovely wife, Betty. He was awarded his B.A. and M.A. degrees from San Diego State.

Mrs. Lois Ruffa, our Girl's Vice-Principal, says that she is proud to be working with the "dedicated staff and wonderful students at Hoover," and we can truly say that we are just as proud to have her here. Mrs. Ruffa enjoys teenagers and deep-sea fishing. She received her B.A. from the College of Wooster and her M.A. from Northwestern University.

Mr. William G. Mathie feels that his years at Hoover, two as a teacher and two as Executive Vice-Principal, have been the happiest of his life. During this time he has contributed much to Hoover's success. Gardening, fishing, and athletics occupy much of his time. He holds an A.B. from San Diego State and an M.A. from Cal. Western.

Mrs. Ethel Imel
Inter-Grade Counselor

Mrs. Doris Oatman
College and Scholarship
Adviser

Mrs. Esther Wells
Special Counselor

With patience, understanding, and genuine interest, our counselors play a vital role in helping to form the well-rounded student and ultimately, future lives. A counselor's guidance is vital also in personality development and exposing a student's inner capabilities and talents. The "helping hand" of a counselor is important, whether it be scheduling hours and courses or aiding in deciding major events such as futures and careers.

Senior counselors are in the Senior Section.

This bulletin board helps our counselors to prepare your schedules.

Faculty Staff

Office Staff

The various types of business that go through the school offices are taken care of by the devoted and capable secretaries. These secretaries are required to carry out their diverse jobs in the library, attendance offices, and financial office, and also general secretaries work for the large staff of teachers. For their willing services and many hours of hard work we give our thanks.

Custodial Staff

Hoover is indeed fortunate to have such an excellent custodial and gardening staff which never fails in its efforts to keep the campus clean and beautiful. They have the jobs of keeping the halls, rooms, and grounds free of all papers and trash, making sure the lights are out and building is locked up after night school each night. For these services we render our thanks.

Cafeteria Staff

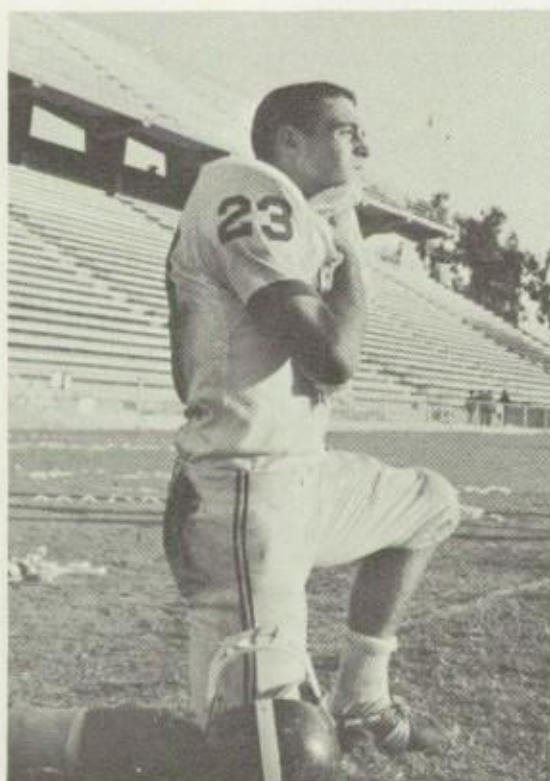

Each day, as the lunch bell rings, hundreds of hungry Hooverites race for the Cafeteria and cold lunch lines. The ladies behind the counters of these lines are members of the cafeteria staff which cooks and serves the meals which are planned weeks in advance. The food is nourishing and delicious too—just what we need to keep us going the rest of the day.

Senior

The 1963 Senior Class was outstanding not only because of its size, but also because of the merits of its individual members. We began our final year of high school with an optimistic view toward the forthcoming trials of exams and homework, based on the confidence that our load would be lightened by Senior activities. The Senior Play, Fun Night, Autograph Night, and Senior Prom will all remain happy memories. Then graduation . . . the ceremony which is the reward for three years of study and achievement.

It has been not only a "Big Year," but a fine and rewarding three years, working with and knowing the class of 1963. We hope we have helped you break down some barriers, or at least have pointed the way to do so. For the more barriers we break down, the more light we let in. So, whether you go on to school, to a job, to marriage, keep breaking down or through barriers—not only those to outer space, but those of intolerance, of fear, of disease, of ignorance.

My best wishes go with you, and may you each put a sizable chunk in those barriers, to let in more light on a world still too dim.

Victoria M. Baker

At this commencement, the hearts of graduates are aflame with hope, ambition, and high resolve. The graduate of today should hold true to the three virtues of the pioneers. These redeeming virtues are optimism, determination, and dedication.

Maturity in a world torn between the extremes of the radical right and left will call for calm judgments and steadiness of purpose, the mark of the American citizen. Cherish this simple rule of conduct: When in the wrong, admit it; when in the right, fight! Only thus can you retain the most precious of all personality traits, self-respect.

As the end of your Big Year approaches, I congratulate you and wish you "Godspeed" for other big years which should be yours if you plan carefully and realistically.

Without an appraisal of your past attainments and present potential, your careful planning has little value. Realistic planning will reveal the goals one should strive to establish as a well-rounded individual who aims to be effective in the workaday world, whatever his niche. More importantly, it will help crystallize worthwhile standards for tomorrow's citizens. Young friends, know yourself and the world that awaits you—then forge ahead.

The students above are to be commended for their outstanding academic performance these three years. We are proud that these of the Senior Class have such a high scholarship rating, particularly the two perfect grade point averages of 4.0. The average of these excellent rankings is 3.916, as compared to the average of last year's eleven top scholars, 3.762. These students have also been active in the activities and government of the school, exercising their abilities in leadership as well as in their scholastic curricula. Their attributes have been an asset to our great Class of '63.

These 17 students have the added distinction of having achieved this feat for four semesters, including one in their Senior year. Many special scholarships and awards are open to CSF life members. They are the ones who hold high the academic standards of Hoover.

Girls' and Boys' State Representatives

Every year three students from Hoover are chosen to participate in the American Legion's Boys' and Girls' States. The students are selected during their junior years and attend during the first week of the following summer. Selection is based on outstanding leadership and scholarship. While there, the students set up and run their own model governments. This year's representatives were Bob Doud, Rick Hartnack, and Kay Martin.

Senior Play Cast

On March 19, 1963, the curtain rose on the Senior Class's contribution to the performing arts. Directed by Mr. Milton Woodruff, the play, entitled "You Can't Take It With You," written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, presented the story of two young people in love. The conflict in the story arises from the differences between their respective families and from the ill-fated dinner at which they meet.

The first two acts contained madcap comedy of the highest quality. The Second Act kept the audience in convulsions with such incidents as the snobbish Mrs. Kirby's encounter with Grandpa's snakes and the explosion of the season's fireworks. The last act was reserved for conveying the message of the story—that all work and no play can be very unhealthy.

Activities

AS

Assemblies and elections, football games and rallies, not to mention dances and special events, were all included in the extra-curricular activities of Hoover student this year. Cheering at the Carnival and Homecoming left many with hoarse voices. During Homecoming too, many old friendships were renewed at the alumni sponsored dance. The Christmas Pageant, with its theme "World Peace Through Understanding," and Commissioner's Ball ushered in the holiday season. With the New Year came the supervised combat of teachers and students at the Student-Faculty game, when the antics of both teams kept the spectators in laughter. Spring brought Dirndl Day and the Nomination Convention, perfect climaxes for our biggest year.

Students Gather for Fun and Dancing

Big and Little Sister Party

"Welcome, little sisters" was the call heard all evening on September 13, at the Big and Little Sister Party. Kay Martin, chairman of the event, announced the Grand March, which provided each sophomore and new student with a big sister. Entertainment was provided by the Cardinal Co-eds and the "We Three Trio."

Howdy Hop

The boys' gym was the setting for the Howdy Hop on September 23. The purpose of the dance was to better acquaint the upper-classmen with the sophomores and other new students starting at Hoover. The Epics provided music and entertainment for this gala activity.

The winners, Mr. Durbin and his daughter, Deanna, also presided over the entertainment as king and princess. Natalie MacNary, chairman, then announced a dance contest with the dads and their daughters, which was judged by the king and princess. Geri Ables and her dad won this event.

Co-ed of the Month

School service, helpfulness, and personality are three requirements for those girls named by the Cardinal Co-ed Cabinet as the Co-ed of the Month. These Senior girls are honored for the worthwhile work they have done to make Hoover the greatest school in San Diego. They are given the distinction of having their pictures placed on the Cardinal Co-ed bulletin board for the entire month, and they are also featured in an article in the CARDINAL. These girls are the leaders of their class who maintain the high standards the school is noted for.

Rallies Highlight Football Season

"Mr. Touchdown, Hoover High . . ."

Rallies played an important part in stirring up spirit. Most of the rallies were pre-game and really aroused interest and built up spirit. Many new and different rallies were presented this year, under the direction of Wally Glass, Commissioner of School Spirit. A Hornet was smothered by Raid at the Lincoln rally, and a preview of the Kearny game was given when senior girls, dressed as Hoover's football team, trounced the Korney team, 6-0. The tremendous spirit created at our great rallies boosted the team morale and helped them to win the Eastern League championship.

Hoover Hosts Carnival

The sports year opened with Hoover hosting the 1962 All-City Schools Football Carnival in Balboa Stadium on a very warm September 23. The spirit of the students was great and as the Cardinettes marched onto the field, they were greeted by a tremendous ovation.

The Pom Pon corps from each school made formations and the band played music which followed the theme of the Carnival, "Fitness Spectacular."

In the middle of the afternoon, our mighty football team opened its season by holding Clairemont to a 0-0 score. As the Western League teams fell to the more powerful Eastern League teams, by a score of 52-14, our team showed promises of its greatest season.

Enthusiasm, pep, and spirit are words that best described the 1962-63 Song and Cheerleaders. These peppy students used much time and energy to prove to everyone that Hoover had the best school spirit in San Diego. This year we had something new. When Wally Glass resigned, Denise Kouns became Hoover's first girl cheerleader. She helped Al Conard lead cheers until the end of the football season. The 1962-63 Song and Cheerleaders are to be commended for the excellent job they did.

Home

Hoover's Homecoming was held on November 2nd. A rally was held at 11:30 a.m. to welcome back the alumni and past song and cheerleaders, especially those from the classes of '32, '42, and '52. After the rally refreshments were served to the alumni in the cafeteria, where the past graduates of Hoover got together and renewed old friendships.

Then came the climax of Homecoming, the Homecoming game against Crawford. The thrill of the half-time was the crowning of Margo Kasch, the 1962-1963 Homecoming Queen, by Commissioner General Art Howard. Hoover's football team completed a perfect evening by whipping the Colts, 19-7. An after-game dance was held for alumni and Hoover students in our gym.

Hoover Girls Display Talents

And they tell us how to act!

Redbird Revue

"The Heart of Broadway" was the theme of this year's Redbird Revue. This annual talent show, directed by Gordana Trbuhovich, was presented to Hoover girls by the Cardinal Co-eds on February 14 in the auditorium.

Paris came to Hoover as chorus girls did the lively Can-Can. Ireland was also remembered by an Irish jig. Then back to the United States for Oklahoma, which won first prize. Comedy sketches by the Ecivres and the faculty and beautiful singing completed the program.

Christmas Spirit Fills the Air

The 1962 Christmas program was dedicated to the thought of "Peace—Through World Understanding." Real life scenes were portrayed to salute Christmas around the world. Mexico was depicted by Spanish children trying to break the pinata, Greece by the Greek family eating the specially baked Christmas cake, and the United States by old Santa Claus.

The orchestra, under the direction of Walter H. Peterson, presented musical selections which filled the air with Christmas spirit.

Christmas carols were presented by the Ensemble, Choir, and Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Harriet Buker and Mr. Frank Close. Hoover's original Bell Choir's selection of carols also added to the program. The hope of this program was that through an understanding of our fellow man will come true "Peace on Earth—Good Will to Men."

Choir promoted yuletide spirit.

The 1962 Commissioner's Ball

I believe in Santa. Do you?

Lovely girls in gorgeous evening gowns and handsome boys were the sights one saw at the annual Commissioner's Ball which was held on December 21, 1962, at the El Cortez Hotel. Couples danced to the music of Danny Hale and his band. Then who appeared at the Commissioner's Ball but Santa Claus! Santa helped Carol Archer pass out the Christmas presents. At the magic hour of twelve o'clock "Winter Whirl" ended. Now all that is left are memories of the gala affair.

Student-Faculty Game

Action, excitement, and thrills well describe the 1963 Student-Faculty basketball game. Hopes were down at the end of the first half as the teachers were topping the Seniors, 26-10. However, the Seniors came back in a fighting spirit as the second half of this annual game began. The boys played their hearts out as they tallied point after point to make a close score at the end of the third quarter.

Keeping their newly found spirit, they finished the fourth quarter tied with the faculty, 35-35. A three minute overtime also ended in a tie. Finally the determined Seniors were subdued by the faculty. As the final buzzer ended the game, the score was 45-44.

Dirndl-Esquire Day

The halls of Hoover suddenly became very bright as Hooverites welcomed the beginning of Spring. Girls in crisp cotton dresses and boys in suits adorned Hoover's campus on April 5.

Before school a contest was held for girls who had made their Spring dresses.

"Blossom Time" was the theme of the annual Dirndl-Esquire Day Fashion Show, of which Lynn Taylor, a TV moderator, was the mistress of ceremonies. Hoover students modeled the latest Spring fashions.

Kay Hanson and Tom Agsten were chosen as Miss Dirndl and Mr. Esquire to reign over Spring.

Keeping Hoover students informed on all social activities and sports events were just a few of the jobs the CARDINAL Staff performed. This staff created the layouts and wrote all the copy for the newspaper, which came out every two weeks. "Kat's Korner," "Sports Standout," and "Bullwinkle" were a few of the items which students looked forward to reading each issue. The CARDINAL Staff produced an excellent paper under the guidance of Mr. Lester Tokars, the Faculty Advisor, and Joyce Singer, Editor-in-Chief.

Student

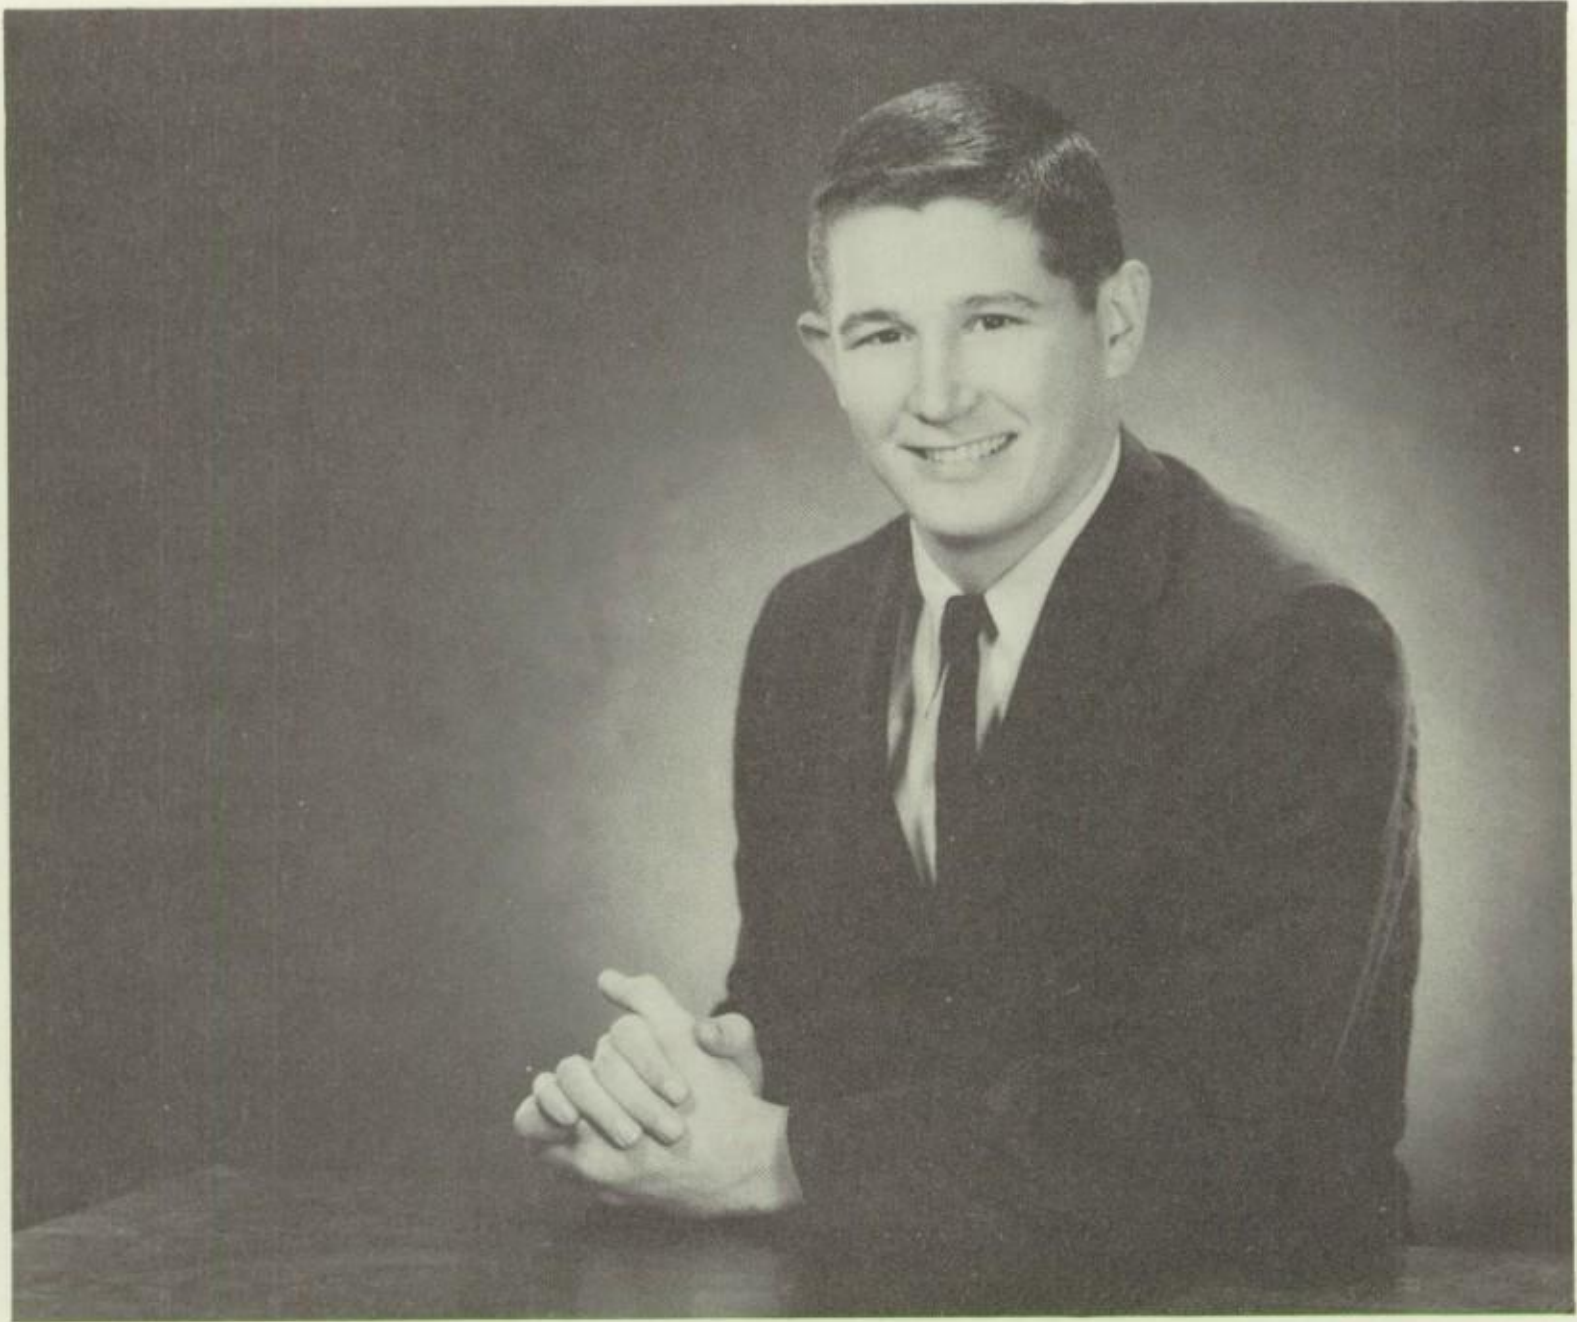

Government

Hoover's student government played a vital role in the school life of each student. The Commissioners, class officers, Student Council, and most important, the voting students were the ones responsible for our traditions and activities. To facilitate the most efficient form of government the responsibility was divided between ASB and class governments, with the former in charge of sports events, assemblies, and elections while the latter handled each of the activities for the individual classes such as Senior Play and Junior Prom.

Board of Commissioners Helped

Commissioner General Art Howard

This year's Board of Commissioners, ably led by our Commissioner General Art Howard, represented one of the most experienced Boards in several years. There were four returning officers: Judy Daniels, Tom Skelly, Diane LesPerance, and Art Howard who received his experience as 1962 Ass't Commissioner General.

Elected in the Spring '62 voting, the Commissioners set to work during the summer to insure the smooth operation of the many activities which took place early in the fall, such as: the traditional Howdy Hop, orientation of new students (a very important function to the more than one thousand sophomores), and early football games.

One of the most unfortunate incidents happened when Art Howard suffered a broken leg in the famed San Diego football game. Thus injured he was confined to the hospital and later to his own home for quite some time. In his absence the burden of leadership fell on the Assistant Commissioner General, Norm Hirata, who turned out to be a very fine replacement and able leader.

The Board of Commissioners was responsible for nearly every activity that took place during 1963. Every student at Hoover can see what a great job the Board did during the year.

Elections Committee

Under the able leadership of Ann Wood, the Commissioner of Elections for 1963, the Elections Committee managed the situations which required a vote by the students. Such situations included the choosing of Homecoming court, and school officers for 1964. Early in the Spring a very successful Nomination Convention was held.

Nina Lynn Fletcher led the Safety Council to a very good year. With Mr. Daniel Showley as faculty advisor, the committee was able to organize a campaign for which Hoover eventually won the trophy pictured above.

Student Council

With Ass't Comm. General Norm Hirata at its head, the Student Council made many useful recommendations for the improvement of conditions at our school. A typical example of the skill of the S. C. was the way it achieved community acceptance of loud speakers at rallies and games.

Organizing

tons

This year we were joiners and Hoover gave us the opportunity to be just that. We had clubs for chess enthusiasts, scientists—everybody. Faculty members gave up spare time to provide us with this extra-curricular fun and education.

Musically inclined people could choose from diverse choirs, orchestra, or band. These fine groups added greatly to our appreciation of the fine arts.

The ROTC served the school in many capacities. It gave dignity to the flag ceremonies and kept order at the various group events. Their biggest reward was the ROTC Ball which was climaxed by the selection of a queen and her court.

Service... the Purpose of

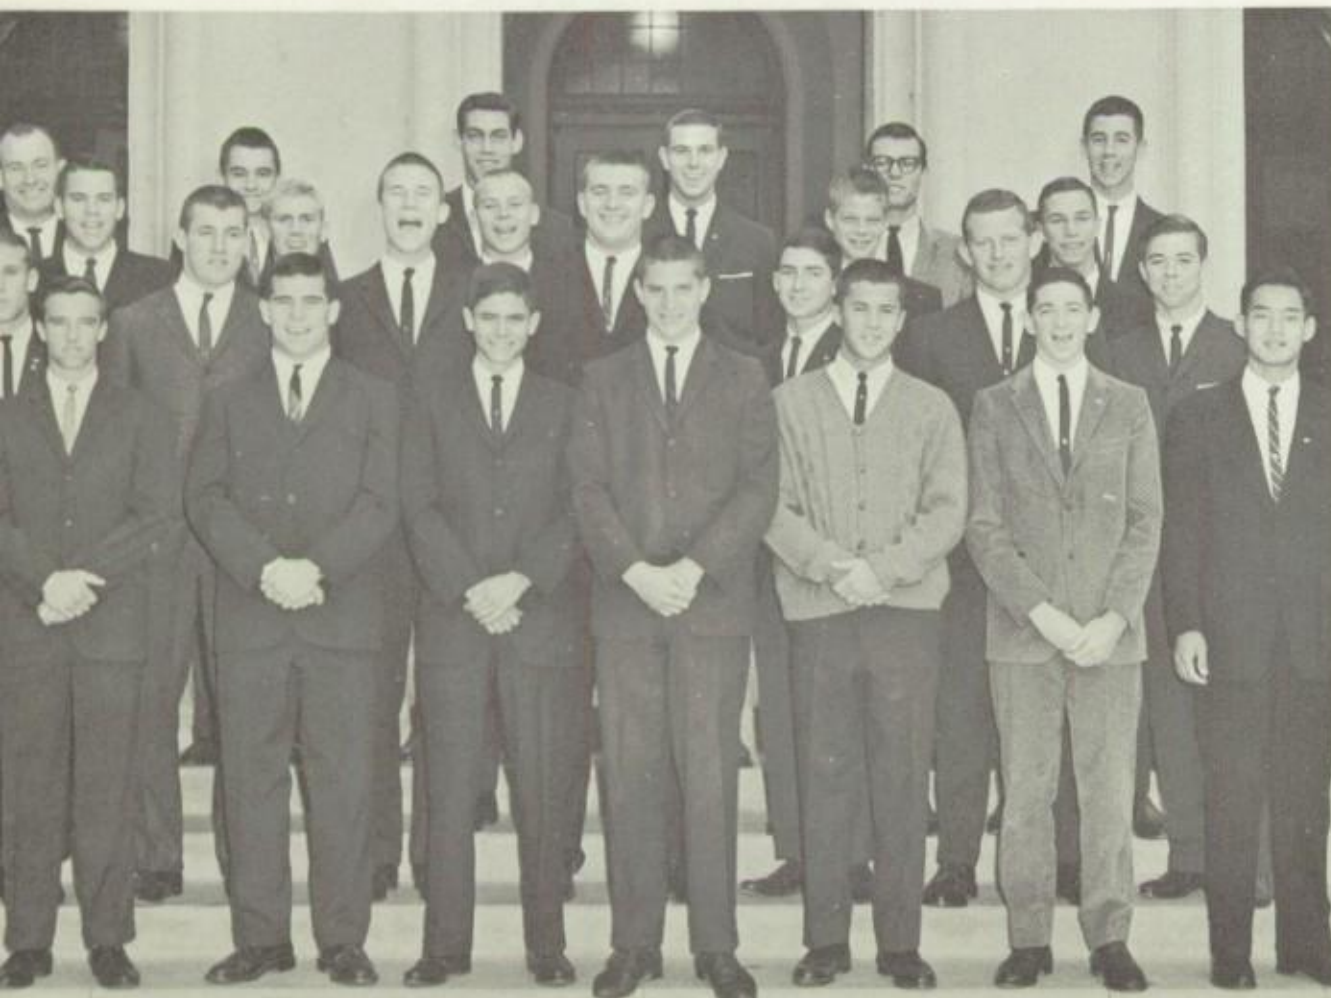

Ecivres

In case you haven't guessed, Ecivres is service spelled backwards, which gives you some indication of the purpose of this club. The 20 seniors that make up this honorary organization were chosen on the basis of their leadership, citizenship, and service to Hoover. This year the Ecivres have made Hoover a better school by promoting school activities and projects and upholding the best traditions of Hoover.

Red Cross Council

The annual membership drive was the first activity of the Youth Red Cross Council this year. Led by Mr. B. Ciccati, the council members volunteered their time to work with this branch of the American Red Cross. Activities throughout the year included the preparation of disaster boxes and the sending of a scrapbook, including copies of the CARDINAL and the DIAS CARDINALES, to a sister school in Yokohama.

These Clubs Promote School Spirit

Booster Club and Downbeat Club

The main purpose of these two organizations is to boost the spirit of Hooverites at football and basketball games. The Downbeat Club is made up of the song and cheer leaders, majorettes, the pep band, and officers of the drum and the pompon corps. The Booster Club is made up of all students interested in showing their school spirit by supporting their team and attending games.

The American Field Service at Hoover was formed five years ago with the purpose of bettering international relationships through the exchange of students. Thus far, AFS has brought five students to Hoover, and this year they were able to send Margaret Callahan to Denmark for the entire school year. After school sales, a progressive dinner, and an annual reception were a few of the activities of this busy organization.

Hiroaki Hayakawa

Hiroaki was our exchange student from Nagoya, Japan. Though he enjoyed participating in Hoover wrestling competition, his favorite sport was really the traditional Japanese "kendo" (bamboo sword fighting!). His experiences here in America will always benefit him as he seeks out his future as a history and philosophy professor.

Marianne Karanikou

Marianne transferred from the largest school in Athens, Greece. Besides attending this regular school and taking the required sixteen subjects, she also studied piano for eight years and attended the French Academy for seven. Upon returning to Athens, she plans to pursue the career of a journalist.

Margaret Callahan and the Nissen family

National Forensic League

The National Forensic League encourages speech activities among high school students through NFL speech tournaments. These tournaments were held throughout Southern California. Deserving candidates were awarded a badge of distinction.

Since it first received its charter from the California Teaching Federation on May 28, 1958, Hoover's Future Teachers Club has grown into one of the most active organizations on campus. Its members, several of whom are now assisting in local elementary schools, are all working to learn the methods, opportunities, and rewards of teaching.

Senators

Speakers for many school occasions were provided by this active club. Its members, all interested students enrolled in Public Speaking 3-4, participated in speech contests and tournaments.

Students Increase Their Abilities

Math Club

$$x = a^2 \pm b^2 \sqrt{\frac{4ab - b^2}{2ac}} \dots$$

Can't solve your algebra homework? Do you spend hours every night on one problem? There is no more need to do so, for Hoover has a Math Club! If this equation can be solved, the students in the Math Club can do it. Under the direction of Mrs. Jordan, students interested in math can meet to discuss problems and increase their problem solving ability. Members found that math wasn't all hard work, but that it could be practical and fun, too. Everyday applications for math and games which required mathematical knowledge were discovered during the meetings.

Thespians

This is the honorary drama club at Hoover. Its main purpose is to increase the members' interest in drama, and to add to their acting ability. Mr. Woodruff sponsors this hard working group, who are quickly learning that acting is not all fun and glory.

Drama Club

Actively participating in and attending dramatical performances, this group has a great love for the theatre. With many of the members looking forward to membership in the honorary drama club, Thespians, this club gives interested students the opportunity to exercise and improve their performing abilities.

Library and Textbook Assistants

Although this is not a formal organization at Hoover, the job done by these students is very necessary and very appreciated. In addition to serving their school, these students, who work one period a day in the library or textbook room, are learning a skill that may be useful to them in the future. Each spring at an annual party a Library Service Plaque and a $25.00 check are awarded to the student giving the most service beyond the call of duty.

Stage Crew

If you were to look behind the scenes at assemblies, rallies, and other events you would see just how important this organization is. Working lights, the curtain, and taking care of the scenery and props are a few of the responsibilities of the Stage Crew. They certainly deserve a lot of thanks for the job they have done.

Public Address Crew

This group is necessary in order to keep Hoover's assemblies running smoothly, for it is their job to see that the microphones are all working properly. One of the oldest organizations at Hoover, the work of these boys is certainly appreciated by the entire student body.

A Cappella Choir

This talented group of young singers has added much to the musical programs and performances at Hoover. Musical selections such as Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" and an extremely interesting modification of "Sleigh Ride" were just a few of the selections heard at the Christmas program. This was the only City Schools choral group selected to perform at the dinner honoring Dr. Dailard in the fall. Mrs. Buker has spent much time in preparing these vocalists for their performances.

Bell Choir

This is Hoover's newest musical group, formed just last year. Mrs. Buker, with her student director, Susan Hurlich, has instructed the group in the art of playing hand bells. They participated in our Christmas program and performed before many distinguished audiences in San Diego.

Ensemble

In addition to performing with the choir at affairs such as the dinner held for Dr. Dailard on October 9, the Ensemble also appears on its own at places like the White Sands. The students in the Ensemble are ones with exceptional singing ability and are chosen from auditions with Mrs. Buker.

Girls Chorus

The Advanced Girls Chorus is another choral group under the direction of Mrs. Buker. It is composed of girls who have shown musical talent and have expressed interest in serving Hoover. The group performed at the Dad & Daughter Banquet and joined with the A Cappella Choir and Ensemble to present the "Hallelujah Chorus" at the Christmas program. The Girls Chorus also appeared in the spring music assembly.

Sport

Hoover's sports success could be attributed to the knowledge of fundamentals, desire, and individual effort. From the gridiron to the baseball diamond the scoring ran high this season. The football team walked off with the Eastern League Championship and only two losses. Under the tutoring of Coaches Hampton and Holt the basketball, cross-country, and track teams continued to live up to their good reputations. With triumphs in the wrestling, swimming, golf, tennis, gymnastics, and baseball fields, Hoover carried on its winning traditions. All these separate efforts combined to give Hoover the laurels it deserved.

A Big Season

The 1962 Hoover football team provided Hoover fans with a year not soon to be forgotten. Though ending with a disappointing defeat in the CIFSD playoffs, the season was filled with many great moments as the Cardinals rolled past seven opponents on the way to being rated the number one team in the county. Finishing with a 7-2 record, the team was one of the finest in the school's history. Hoover captured its first league championship since 1956 by performing an almost impossible feat, going through the rugged Eastern League with a perfect 4-0 record. Week after week, the Cardinals were forced to be at their best, because their league foes were the toughest teams in the area. As the Cardinals won their first opening game in six years with an upset shutout victory over highly rated San Bernardino, it was an indication of things to come.

Great defensive play was the highlight of the season, as four opponents were blanked. Probably the most exciting play of the year occurred in the San Diego game as the high-scoring Cavers were halted two inches from the goal late in the fourth quarter. The offensive line also did a great job the entire season, providing good blocking for the Cardinal backs. Outstanding and unsung performers included Bill Homik, Jim Foster, Lynn Johnson, Bob

Bishop, Roger Seeman, Richard Gauthier, Dave Carr, and actually every member of the team. Punter Dale Twombly did an excellent job, averaging about forty yards a kick.

On offense, the backfield combination of Bobby Smith and Bill Boone gave Hoover an explosive attack on kick-off and punt returns, as well as on every play from scrimmage. Smith, Boone, John Faulkner, Bud Schrader, Gary Wilson, and Dudley Oatman were all power runners, picking up the vital extra couple of yards after appearing to be stopped. The Cardinal ground game came to be regarded as one of the most potent in the area. At quarterback, there could have been a serious problem because of injuries, but Hoover's depth solved that. When Art Howard suffered a broken leg, Rick Shaw took over until his shoulder was hurt, then Ray Hammer became quarterback. All three did commendable jobs in leading the Cardinals to their seven victories.

Each of the players, under the guidance of Coaches Roy Engle and Russ Leslie, helped to give Hoover an outstanding season. Even after the playoff loss under tremendous pressure, every Hoover student could be proud of his team, as everyone in the area knew that Hoover was still NUMBER ONE!

Great Defense Paced Cardinals

Bernardino Burned, 21-0

Bill Boone eludes two San Bernardino tacklers on route to big gain in Cardinals' 21-0 upset victory.

Displaying tremendous spirit and determination, the Cardinals soundly trounced heavily favored San Bernardino, 21-0. The great Hoover line halted four San Bernardino drives deep in Cardinal territory, and on offense opened big holes for the Cardinal backs. The highlight of this exciting game was the 90-yard return of the second half kickoff by halfback Bill Boone. Hoover gained much prestige by defeating San Bernardino, a team which had been rated among the top five in Southern California.

Pointers Nose Out, 14-13

The Point Loma Pointers continued their jinx over Hoover, edging the Cardinals by the narrow margin of 14-13. The Cardinals fought back from a 14-0 deficit and had a chance to tie the game in the fourth quarter, but Bobby Smith's conversion attempt was blocked, giving the Pointers the victory. The contest was plagued by fumbles, penalties, and Cardinal defensive mistakes, but was a hard-fought struggle all the way. The Hoover scores came on a 28-yard jaunt by John Faulkner in the second quarter and a 13-yard rush by Art Howard early in the final period.

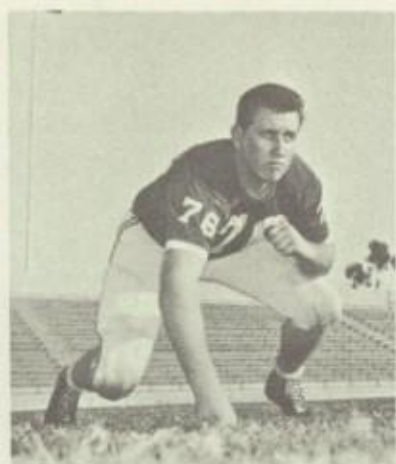

Fullback John Faulkner breaks away for a 28-yard touchdown against Point Loma as Schrader (43), Homik (78), and Weide (81) block downfield.

Spartans Snowed, 43-12

Hoover scored easily and often to smother the outmanned Chula Vista Spartans, 43-12. A safety for Hoover on the opening kickoff was an indication of things to come. With only six and one-half minutes gone in the first quarter the Cards led, 16-0. Chula Vista fought back to narrow the margin to 16-12, but from then on it was a Hoover rout. Fullback Gary Wilson and quarterback Art Howard each scored twice for the Cards. The game's most exciting play was an 80-yard touchdown run by halfback Bobby Smith. Smith and Jim Thomas added Hoover's five extra points on placekicks.

Art Howard chugs around right end for a fifteen yard touchdown in the Cardinals' 43-12 rout of Chula Vista.

Cavers Clubbed, 6-0

In a dramatic, tension-packed thriller, the Cardinals upset previously unbeaten San Diego, 6-0, before 6000 delirious fans. Early in the game, Hoover lost the services of quarterback Art Howard, who suffered a broken leg. This fired up the team. With the crowd screaming "Win for Art," junior quarterback Rick Shaw led Hoover to a second quarter touchdown, after Bill Homik blocked a Caver punt and Dave Carr recovered on the San Diego 28. The great Hoover line halted the vaunted Caver offense three times within the Cardinal 15 to preserve the great victory.

Komets Fizzle, 7-0

The Cardinals stepped out of conference play to challenge the Kearny Komets of the Western League. Quarterback Rick Shaw scored the game's lone touchdown on a one-yard plunge in the third quarter, after Hoover's offense had sputtered in the scoreless first half. As usual, the great Cardinal defense did a superb job, blanking the Komets as an annoying fog rolled in.

Halfback Mike McCulley

Displaying Hoover's defensive strength, Gary Weide stops a Colt back as Hammer (32), Gauthier (76), Baltzer (73), Twombly (75), and Capatanos (65) close in.

Crawford Crushed, 19-7

As 7200 howling fans jammed into the Hoover stadium, the Cardinals scored on their first offensive play and went on to a 19-7 Homecoming victory over stunned Crawford. Bill Boone returned a Colt punt 80 yards with just two minutes gone in the opening quarter to start the rout. Hoover scored twice more in the second period on Boone's eight-yard run and on a fantastic 75-yard pass play from Rick Shaw to end Ron Flisher. Flisher snatched the pass away from two Crawford defenders near the sidelines at midfield and then outran the shocked Colts to the goal line.

Jim Thomas boots vital extra point to clinch Hoover's Eastern League championship victory over Saints.

Saints Smashed, 7-0

Unleashing a strong ground attack, the Cardinals defeated St. Augustine, 7-0, to win the Eastern League championship. The mighty Hoover defense halted Saint drives on the 11 and 7 yard lines to clinch the thrilling victory. Bobby Smith's two-yard touchdown plunge and Jim Thomas' extra point put the Cardinals out in front in the second quarter, and the rugged Hoover line made sure the score stayed that way, constantly smothering the dangerous Saint backs.

Hornets Hammered, 14-7

In this rugged Eastern League game, the Cardinals managed to pull out a hard-fought 14-7 victory over the tough Lincoln Hornets. Bob Bishop's thirty-seven yard runback of a Horner fumble, less than a minute after Bill Boone had smashed through the Lincoln defense for a forty-five yard touchdown, plus Jim Thomas' two perfect placekicks, gave Hoover a 14-0 cushion midway in the third quarter.

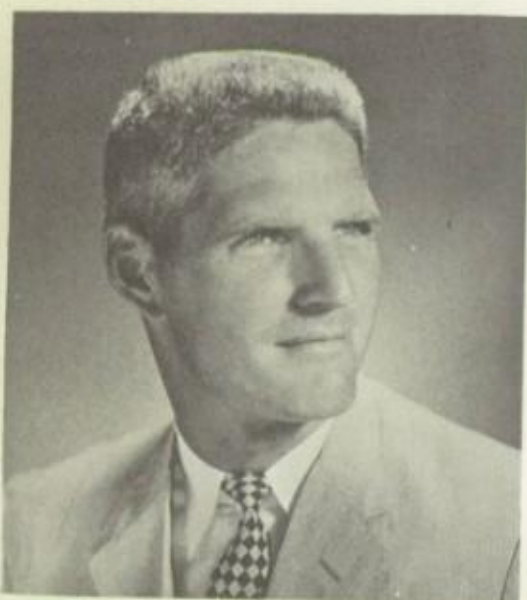

Defensive halfback Lloyd Jacobsen snares a pass out of the arms of a Lincoln receiver for one of the Cardinals' five interceptions of the game.

2nd — Kiwanis Tournament

2nd — Eastern League

The 1962-63 Hoover basketball team amazed area fans by racing to eighteen victories against only eight defeats. Following on the heels of four straight league champion Cardinal teams, this year's team was not expected to do too well. Under the brilliant guidance of Coach Charles Hampton, however, the Cardinals developed into one of the area's outstanding teams, second only to CIFSD champion Crawford.

Early in the season, the Cardinals showed their potential strength as they advanced to the finals of the Kiwanis Tournament. The tournament final against Crawford was a close struggle all the way, with the Colts escaping with a hard-fought 55-49 victory. Even in defeat, however, the Cardinals served a warning that they would be a power in the upcoming Eastern League race.

The rugged Eastern League had the area's four toughest teams: Hoover, Crawford, San Diego, and St. Augustine. The Cardinals won seven league games, while suffering only three defeats, and finished in a second place tie with Crawford, one game behind St. Augustine. This difference of one game was caused by the first struggle against Saints. The Cardinals led all the way, only to have the Saints emerge victorious, 48-45, in the final seconds. Hoover gained revenge for this setback, however, as they edged the Saints in a 63-62 thriller. With this great win, the Cardinals were rated the area's best team.

Confident that they could beat arch-rival Crawford when finally playing in the Hoover gym, the Cardinals set out to avenge two previous losses to the Colts. Hoover's championship hopes were killed, however, as the Colts played one of their best games and the Cardinals, possibly trying too hard, put on their worst performance of the year.

The Cardinals were down, but not out. Knowing that with a victory over San Diego in the season finale they still had a chance for a playoff berth, the Cardinals played their finest game of the year, defeating the Cavers, 52-45, at San Diego. In both victories over San Diego, the Cardinals played great defense, holding the dangerous Cavemen under fifty points each time. Eastern League officials then deliberated for three days before finally voting Crawford as the league's second place playoff representative.

Hustle, Spirit, Defense, Depth

Hoover's Charles Hampton, one of the best coaches in San Diego basketball history, brilliantly guided the Cardinals to eighteen victories this year. Noted for his calm, gentlemanly poise, in spite of the tension of close struggles, Coach Hampton instills this same coolness into his players. Coach Hampton has built Hoover into the leading basketball power in the area, and his teams have the reputation of always winning the big ones.

Even though not selected for the playoffs, the 1962-63 Hoover basketball team had an extremely successful season, improving with every game. For a squad with four juniors as starters, the Cardinals did remarkably well, and the returning lettermen should make the 1963-64 team one of the finest in the school's history. The starting juniors were guard Gilbert Hernandez, forward Isaac McLemore, and center Lyle Hull, who took over when starting forward Rick Shaw was scholastically ineligible. Hernandez excelled on defense, Hull and Shaw were very accurate shooters, and all four scored and rebounded well.

Hoover's seniors were outstanding too. Bob Powell, center and forward, was the team's leading scorer, leading rebounder, and most valuable player. His 22 points against Glendale were high for a Hoover player this year. Powell was also a great clutch performer, laying in the winning basket against Saints with only 22 seconds left in the game. Guard Tom Nettles, the second leading scorer, was instrumental in keeping the team running smoothly together. Senior forward Conrad Seymour, voted the team's most improved player, and senior guard Richard Evans gave Hoover the best depth in the league, both important in many Cardinal wins.

The Cardinals' greatest asset was their rebounding strength, while the fast break and the outside shooting were often excellent. Most important, the Cardinals never stopped hustling, and as a result of their constant desire to win, came from behind late in the game to capture several contests that appeared lost.

Hoover's 1963 tennis team was one of the finest in the school's history. Undefeated through seven matches and winning by large margins, Hoover was heavily favored to capture the Eastern League title. Roy Barth, the Cardinals' number one man, was unbeaten during the season and was the high school boys champion of San Diego's annual Harper Ink Memorial Tournament. Hoover's second man, Mike Kohler, consistently made a fine showing, as did the third and fourth men, Don Parker and Mike Amador. Hoover's outstanding tennis team experienced a great season, highlighted by the convincing victory over tough San Diego.

The 1962-63 Hoover wrestling had many great moments, as several individuals came through with great efforts. James Anderson and Richard Reed were undefeated through the ten dual meets, while Hoover's Frank San Filippo captured first place in the Eastern League finals. Richard Calton recorded the season's fastest pin, defeating his Kearny opponent in 33 seconds. The Kearny meet was the finest team performance, as Hoover upset the Komets, 27-17. Three meets were not decided until the final match, and even though not always winning, Coach Arnold's team usually made a very respectable showing.

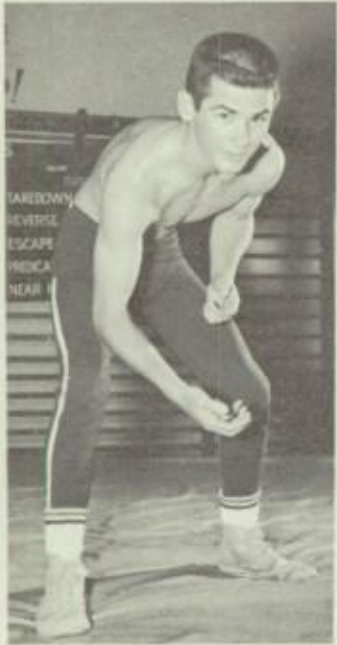

Hoover's Richard Reed defeats his opponent from Kearny, who was previously unbeaten. Reed, a 165-pounder, was undefeated through the team's ten meets.

Hoover's swimming team had a fair season in 1963, highlighted by the exciting victory over arch-rival San Diego. The leading Cardinal swimmer was Jim Kelly, who placed second in the 50-yard freestyle in the local AAU championships. Kelly, who earlier recorded the fine time of 23.3 in the 50-yarder, throughout the season teamed up with Jim Skelley to give Hoover good strength in the sprints. The Cardinals' distance swimmer, Adam Gifford, consistently did an excellent job in the 200 and 400-yard races. Hoover's relay team placed fourth in the AAU meet.

Hoover's track team, under the outstanding coaching of Raleigh Holt and John Murphy, experienced one of its finest seasons in recent years. Stellar performances by Tom Agsten in the 100 and the 440 paced the Cardinals to their track victories. Agsten set a school record of 9.7 in the 100-yard dash and a county record of 48.5 in the 440, the third best mark in the nation. Hoover's mile relay team of John Koethe, Rick Snow, Ed Byrne, and Agsten set a National City Relays record of 3:21.3, the fifth best time recorded in the nation this year. Ed Hanks cleared 6'4" in the high jump, Norm Hirata 12'2" in the pole vault, and Richard Gauthier heaved the shot put 51'6", giving Hoover great strength in the field events. When the runners and the field men performed up to their potential, Hoover's track team was one of San Diego's best.

A Great Season

With powerful hitting and clutch pitching, Hoover's 1963 baseball team, capably guided by Coach Jerry Bartow, raced into the lead in the rugged Eastern League and at mid-season held a one-game advantage over conference rivals. Consistent pitching performances by Gary Weide, Bud Schrader, and Dave Doyle held opponents in check, giving Hoover batters a chance to run up the score. The Cardinal pitching staff, the best in the league, had an excellent earned run average of 1.77. Hoover hitters were threats to explode at any time, and, consequently, in six of their ten wins, the Cardinals were able to come from behind. With seven starters hitting well over .300, Hoover had the amazing team batting average of .332. The crucial game that established the Cardinals as title favorites was a dramatic, 10-inning 5-3 victory at San Diego. The 1963 Hoover baseball team truly had a big season.

Coach Jerry Bartow, in his second year at the helm of Hoover's baseball, has molded the 1963 club into a strong championship contender. Under Coach Bartow's expert blending of strategy with this year's outstanding talent, the Cardinals have developed into one of San Diego's finest teams.

"What's to come?" — This is the cry of the Sophomore and Junior Classes who are yet to experience the thrills of the coming years. You've had a big'n little sister party, dances, team games, and club activities. You've shared exciting times with your friends, but at the same time you are always keeping an eye toward your big year, your Senior Year.

The dances, games, sales, and special events were fun, but expectation is still the keyword. You've built on your first year at Hoover to have an even better Senior Year.

The pages through which you have just passed represent but a small part of "Our Biggest Year." Many memories are contained here, many more will remain with each individual for the rest of our lives. Speaking for myself and the staff I can say that one of our most memorable experiences will be the production of this annual and the lessons learned from it.

We have attempted many innovations this year and, on the whole, are very proud of them; we hope you are.

No one more than the Editor realizes the time and teamwork it takes to put out an annual of this size and quality. In recognition of this fact I would like to thank the entire staff of the 1963 Dias Cardinales who met, so faithfully, every morning to give of their talent.

Also, my thanks to Mrs. James, Mr. Dean, Mr. Tarvin, Mr. Allen, Mr. Mathie, Jim Brooks, the Board of Commissioners, the Senior Cabinet, Mr. Tokars and the Cardinal staff, and the rest of the faculty and administration who gave so generously of their services.

Busco-Nestor Studios warrant the gratitude of every one for their terrific co-operation in meeting our special needs.

Mr. James Neyenesch of Neyenesch Printing provided us with the materials and instructions so necessary for a good book; my thanks.

My biggest thanks of all goes to Mr. Fred Jappe, without whose inspiration none of this would have been possible.
